

Empower Serves as Presenting Sponsor of KTAR News “The Issues That Matter” Town Hall on Arizona Ballot Measures

Empower’s Chief Growth Officer and growth team joined KTAR News, Arizona Talks and the hosts of Arizona’s Morning News in Scottsdale, and spoke with attendees about serving veterans and growing Empower’s services across Arizona.

SCOTTSDALE, Ariz., September 2026 Empower served as presenting sponsor of KTAR News’ “The Issues That Matter,” a live town hall on Arizona’s November ballot measures held Tuesday, September 15 from 6 to 8 p.m. at Western Spirit: Scottsdale’s Museum of the West. Empower partnered with KTAR News and Arizona Talks to bring the forum to the Scottsdale community, and Chief Growth Officer Anthony Conti and members of Empower’s growth team attended, speaking with attendees throughout the evening about the organization’s work for veterans and its growing service lines.

The forum was hosted by LaDona Harvey, Jim Sharpe and Mike Broomhead of Arizona’s Morning News. Experts, community leaders and local advocates joined the conversation to help voters understand measures on the November ballot, including:

Proposition 141. Would prohibit taxes or fees based on vehicle mileage.

Proposition 142. Would restrict diversity, equity and inclusion policies and programs.

Proposition 144. Would require voter identification and enact additional election security measures.

Proposition 316. Would cap municipal sales taxes on groceries at 2 percent.

Proposition 318. Would restrict transgender athletes’ participation in certain school sports and access to certain facilities.

Proposition 320. Would require large school districts to spend at least 60 percent of their budgets on direct classroom instruction.

Empower does not endorse or take a position on any ballot measure. As presenting sponsor, the company’s role was to help bring a nonpartisan public forum to the community, consistent with its mission to serve Arizona’s veterans, injured workers and the patients in its care.

"Arizonans deserve to walk into the voting booth informed, not overwhelmed," said Anthony Conti, Chief Growth Officer of Empower. "That's why we stood behind KTAR News and Arizona Talks to bring 'The Issues That Matter' to Scottsdale. It's also why our team spent the evening talking with our neighbors about the work we do for veterans and the people we serve every day. Growth and community responsibility go hand in hand."

Throughout the evening, members of Empower's growth team spoke directly with attendees about the organization's work supporting veterans through disability evaluations, and about the company's growing personal injury and workers' compensation service lines in Arizona.
