Empower Named Major Sponsor of PIMCON 2026, Will Present the Closing Party for Personal Injury's Top Firms

Empower joins the personal injury industry's leading firms and marketers in Scottsdale this October, presenting the closing celebration of one of the sector's most closely watched annual gatherings.

PHOENIX, Ariz., September 2026, Empower, a Phoenix-based, clinician-led behavioral health company serving personal injury law firms across Arizona, today announced it is a major sponsor of PIMCON 2026, the Personal Injury Mastermind Conference, and will present the event's Closing Party.

PIMCON runs October 4 through 6 at The Phoenician Resort in Scottsdale. Produced by Rankings.io, the conference brings together personal injury attorneys and firm leaders from across the country for three days of education on growth, marketing, intake, and operations, alongside networking and evening events. This year's keynote lineup includes Morris Bart of Morris Bart, LLC and Angie Flury of Morgan & Morgan, with educational sessions from firm leaders and operators across the personal injury industry, and a closing lineup that includes NFL Hall of Famer Ray Lewis and comedian Iliza Shlesinger.

The Empower-presented Closing Party caps the conference on October 6, bringing attendees together as PIMCON wraps for the year.

"PIMCON is where the firms building the future of this industry actually show up in one room, and we wanted our name on the moment that closes it out," said Anthony Conti, chief growth officer of Empower. "We built Empower because personal injury firms told us the same thing over and over: they needed a behavioral health partner who actually confirms the referral, schedules the client, sends the records back without a chase, and holds the lien. Presenting the Closing Party puts us in front of the firms who are scaling fastest and thinking hardest about how their clients are cared for. That's exactly who we want to be talking to."

Empower will also have a presence on the exhibitor floor throughout the conference, where its team will meet with attending firms to discuss trauma-informed psychological evaluation, counseling, and neuropsychological evaluation for personal injury clients, coordinated through a single point of contact.

Empower's sponsorship reflects its ongoing investment in the personal injury referral community it serves, and its commitment to being known among the industry's leading firms as a clinically credible, operationally reliable behavioral health partner.
